I want to extract all numbers from the strings (164,,,,,, etc) My script import re import string with open('D:\Users\Public\Desktop\Desktop\top_sila.txt') as f: for line in f: data = line.split(" ") print(re.findall(r'\d+', data)) It works fine but i want to know how to replace '\d+' with just '164' as i want to assign the value to a variable, I also want to know how to assign '164' to a variable. A: Here's how you could do it: with open('D:\Users\Public\Desktop\Desktop\top_sila.txt') as f: for line in f: data = line.split(" ") print(data) # You can access the elements print(data[2]) # You can access the third element of the list You can use the name of the list as the variable, as you are storing all elements in the list. Pancreatic metastases from thymic carcinoma. Thymic carcinoma rarely metastasizes to the pancreas. We describe a case of a 48-year-old man with a rare thymic carcinoma who presented with generalized pain and weight loss. Ultrasonography and endoscopic retrograde cholangiopancreatography revealed a pancreatic mass. An ultrasound-guided fine-needle aspiration biopsy confirmed the diagnosis of a pancreatic metastatic thymic carcinoma.1.
