and Windows NT 4.x (codenamed after the merger of the Windows NT and Windows 95 operating systems into one product). Windows is a multimedia-oriented operating system designed to be used with other multimedia software and is designed to be customizable.
Windows is created and released by Microsoft as an upgrade to Windows NT, a business-oriented version of Microsoft Windows 3.1. Microsoft

This method is for devices with USB drives (no hard drives) that have been formatted to NTFS. To create a bootable flash drive, boot from a USB flash drive or CD/DVD. You must be in system recovery mode by pressing the R key while booting.

If you want to use the GRUB boot loader, you need to change the option to start GRUB. I have done this, so I recommend using this method. Insert the boot disk / flash drive into the USB port.
