We went to the zoo this morning and I had a blast! The newly renovated zoo is even more awesome than before. It's like the zoo in a completely different universe. Do I hate the 4 million non-child visitors? Not in the slightest. They were so easy to get around it was really fun. The only thing that would have made the visit better was if they let you ride in the cages, because that would have been so much more fun. My favorite part of the zoo was: Standing in line for feedings Seeing the parade (with the single parade animal, the bear) The giraffe The new zoo is so much better than the old one! We checked out the tiger exhibit before lunch and the zoo was almost full, so we didn't see the lion primate exhibit. But we were excited to see the new giraffe exhibit. The newest giraffe, named Rahlah, is so pretty. I also found the new aquarium. They said that the new giraffe exhibit is really large, but the space was kind of small, so we didn't really get to see how big it was. But it was pretty cool. I 09e8f5149f
